The Day According To The Sun

The miraculous day is arbitrarily depicted here as occurring in the middle of the week. Regardless of which day the miracle occurred on, the following Sunday became the seventh day.

Gideon (Gid'on) hewer down. Judges 6:11

Gideoni (Gid'oni) possibly my hewer. Numbers 1:11

Gihon (Gihon) bursting forth. Genesis 2:13

Gilboa (Gilboa). 1Samuel 28:4

Gilead (Gil'ad) camel hump. Genesis 37:25

Gilgal (Gilgal) wheel, circle of stones. Joshua 4:19

¹⁰ Could the LORD have brought about this miracle by means of the earth interacting with a cosmic body? The earth, while continuing to turn on her axis, may have swung back on another center of rotation, effectively canceling the rotation of the earth in the vicinity of the middle east. Perhaps there is a causal connection between the great hailstones mentioned in Joshua 10:11 and the miracle of the sun seeming to stand still.
