

discovered it. No doubt in private settings, apart from each other and the public, they both thanked God for it.

Even if you are not a heavy hitter with mathematics, it is worth reading about the following problem. You will be able to understand the problem even if you don't fully understand the terms and symbols used to solve the problem. If nothing else, you may gain more of an appreciation for how so very many things bear witness of God and his Messiah.
